

EXHIBIT C

Case No. 1:17-cv-02511-RJL

DOJ INVESTIGATION TIMELINE

- October 22, 2016 – AT&T/Time Warner announce transaction.
- November 4, 2016 – AT&T/Time Warner file HSR (13 days elapsed since transaction announcement).
- December 8, 2016 – DOJ issues Second Requests (47 days elapsed since transaction announcement).
- February 2016 – March 2017 – AT&T/Time Warner produce almost 6,000,000* documents and submit over 200 written pages in response to DOJ interrogatories (160 days elapsed since transaction announcement).
- March 31, 2017 – Per the parties' timing agreement with DOJ, AT&T/Time Warner certify substantial compliance with Second Requests (160 days elapsed since transaction announcement).
- April – May 2017 – DOJ conducts 17 depositions of AT&T/Time Warner employees, on 18 days* (215 days elapsed since transaction announcement).
- June 2, 2017 – DOJ issues Civil Investigative Demand (223 days elapsed since transaction announcement).
- June 30, 2017 – Expiration of the original timing agreement with DOJ (251 days elapsed since transaction announcement).
- July 10, 2017 – AT&T complies with the Civil Investigative Demand, producing over 6,000* documents (261 days elapsed since transaction announcement).
- October 24, 2017 – DOJ issues Civil Investigative Demand (367 days elapsed since transaction announcement).
- October 26, 2017 – AT&T responds to the Civil Investigative Demand, producing over 300* documents (369 days elapsed since transaction announcement).
- November 20, 2017 – DOJ files suit (394 days elapsed since transaction announcement).

* From October 2016 to October 2017, the parties produced a total of nearly 25 million pages in response to DOJ's various requests (including the Second Requests and various Voluntary Requests and Civil Investigative Demands). AT&T also made a deponent available on December 20, 2016 for an early deposition.