| 09/22/2016 | 49 | MINUTE entry before the Honorable Edmond E. Chang: Defendants' extension motion 38 to answer is granted, and will align with the deadline set forth in the Case Management Order, which will be filed next week after its presentation. With regard to the case management motion 44 , the motion hearing is reset to 8:45 a.m. on the same date as noticed for presentment, 09/27/2016. By the close of business on 09/23/2016, the parties shall provide an estimate for the number of trial days needed; email the estimate to the Proposed Order account. If the parties confidently believe that the 02/2017 trial date is a realistic proposal and the parties firmly commit to achieving that schedule, then the Court might make inquiries into shifting another 1-month trial that is currently on the Court's calendar in 02/2017, but the estimated length of this case's trial will be a factor. Emailed notice (slb,) (Entered: 09/22/2016) |
| 09/22/2016 | 50 | MINUTE entry before the Honorable Edmond E. Chang: The agreed motion 42 to enter protective order is granted. The order will be entered on the docket as a separate entry. That said, based on the breadth of the definitions of "Investigation Materials" and "Litigation Materials" in the protective order, the Court will independently review the propriety of sealing of filings, when the strong presumption of public access is triggered. And the parties shall adhere to Local Rule 26.2, which requires contemporaneous uploading of under-seal and publicly available redacted versions of filings. Emailed notice (slb,) (Entered: 09/22/2016) |

| 09/27/2016 | 60 | MINUTE entry before the Honorable Edmond E. Chang: Motion hearing held on the parties' joint case management motion 44 . As discussed during the hearing, the motion 44 is granted in large part, with the pretrial conference and trial date to be determined. The parties confirmed their commitment to achieving a February 2017 trial date if possible. The Court will enter the parties case management order in a separate docket entry. As the case progresses, the Court will discuss with the parties additional details (e.g., the possibility of witnesses adopting written statements as direct testimony, starting each witness with an abbreviated direct testimony, and then moving right into cross examination). The status hearing of 10/18/2016 remains in place. Emailed notice (slb,) (Entered: 09/27/2016) |

Chang: The hearing on CNH's motion for protective order 105 is reset to 10 a.m. on the same date, 11/30/2016, to coincide with the previously set status hearing. R. 110 is terminated in light of the amended motion to seal and to file corrected opposition 115 filed by Defendant Deere. That motion 115 is granted. The government's motion to seal 113 the confidential interrogatory answer is granted. Emailed notice (slb,) (Entered: 11/29/2016) |
| 11/30/2016 | 122 | MINUTE entry before the Honorable Edmond E. Chang: Status hearing held. The Court discussed the various Status Report sections as follows. Section 2(b): the Court found that Defendants' Interrogatory 1 did not exceed a single matter, but warned that the higher the level of generality, the less likely the Court would find fault with the interrogatory answer (either in the form of the answer's statements or identification documents). Section 2(c): the parties shall confer further on what procedure to follow for introducing confidential information at trial. By 12/12/2016, the parties shall file a joint status report setting forth the areas of agreement and disagreement. Section 2(d): after 01/13/2017, the Court authorizes the parties to take the deposition of any custodian or witness to overcome a Rule 803(6) or Rule 901 objection. Hopefully, witnesses would provide Rule 902(11) certifications instead, but if needed, after 01/13/2017, the notices of depositions or subpoenas may be issued and enforced promptly. Section 2(e): by 12/23/2016, the parties may propose up to five changes to the witness list. But the proposal must be for good cause and will face close scrutiny as to what happened to justify the change between 11/30/2016 and 12/23/2016, including possibly an ex parte and under seal examination of reasons that would otherwise be protected by work product. Any response to a proposed change is due by 12/26/2016. For the reasons discussed during the hearing, Case's motion to quash deposition of Richard Tobin 105 is granted for now, subject to renewal after the three |

| | | not raise a privacy-implicating concern, the government may file the response under seal for the time being. For the parties' information, given the length of the trial, the feasible options for a continued trial would be (1) to start the week of June 5, but with an entire off week for the week of June 12 (so the trial would resume the week of June 19); or (2) to start the week of June 19 and go continuously from there. The government's response shall state its preference (or agnosticism) among those two options, in case the objection is overruled. | 01/08/2017 | 152 | MINUTE entry before the Honorable Edmond E. Chang: Defendant Deere's motion to add counsel and to continue trial 142 is granted to 06/05/2017. Deere's motion is premised on a medical concern that reasonably (and unfortunately) necessitates the withdrawal of lead trial counsel and the addition of a new lead counsel (and new lead law firm). The sheer volume of the discovery record, comprised not only of thousands of documents (totaling millions of pages), and over four dozen depositions, readily justifies a continuance so that new counsel can become sufficiently familiar with the record and prepare for trial. Refusing the continuance thus clearly would substantially prejudice Deere, whereas the government's (and competitor's) contentions of marketplace harm are not proven. Nor is the continuance request some sort of anti-competitive stratagem; Deere was the one pushing for a quicker trial, and has sought only a six-week continuance, which is not feasible only because of the Courts trial schedule. The trial shall occupy the weeks of 06/05/2017, 06/19/2017, and 06/26/2017, with 07/03/2017 and 07/05/2017 reserved as well, if needed. Counsel shall confer on a new schedule and file a new proposed Case Management Order on the docket by 01/17/2017 (if there are any disputes, the parties shall set forth their |

| 03/09/2017 | 204 | MINUTE entry before the Honorable Edmond E. Chang: The Court has been reviewing the parties' sample of exhibit-confidentiality disputes and the underlying exhibits. Based on this review, and the nature of the government's objections and Deere's reasoning, the Court believes that an in-court hearing is not required and that it has enough information to decide the dispute (though certain exhibits might require a specific supplemental declaration). The government need not be concerned about the fact that it has not addressed the Deere declaration for which they had no advance notice; the declaration has not materially impacted the Court's review, because there was little doubt that a company of Deeres size and complexity had type of general internal corporate controls referred to in the declaration. The Court appreciates the narrowing of the sample down to the 16 exhibits. The Court will endeavor to issue a written order over the next week, recognizing that the issuance of the order is needed to trigger the next round of proposed redactions. The Court also grants all of the |

| 03/14/2017 | 209 | SECOND REVISED CASE MANAGEMENT ORDER signed by the Honorable Edmond E. Chang on 3/14/2017. This Order adopts the parties' proposed revisions to the Case Management Order. The 25-page proposed page limit on pretrial briefs is granted. The Court has reviewed the remainder of the joint status report, R. 208, which flags the still pending motion to modify the protective order and the exhibit-redaction disputes. Separately, with regard to the production of less-redacted versions of certain Deere documents (also flagged in the joint status report), the Court generally would expect that, given the protective order in place restricting the government's dissemination and use of confidential documents, there should be fewer, not more, redactions. But any specific disputes can be decided if not resolved between the parties. Finally, in light of the joint status report and the weather, if the parties wish to reschedule the status hearing, they may jointly call (or designate a party to call) the courtroom deputy (312.408.5121) to do so. (One potential rescheduled date/time is 03/23/2017 at 10 a.m.) If the status hearing is held tomorrow, at the very least any party that wishes to participate by phone may do so by alerting the courtroom deputy (or set up a conference call).
