

United States Court of Appeals

For the Seventh Circuit
Chicago, Illinois 60604

May 1, 2014

Before

RICHARD A. POSNER, Circuit Judge

MICHAEL S. KANNE, Circuit Judge

ILANA DIAMOND ROVNER, Circuit Judge

MOTOROLA MOBILITY LLC]	Petition for Leave to Take
Plaintiff-Appellant,]	an Interlocutory Appeal
]	from the United States
No. 14-8003	v.]	District Court for the
]	Northern District of
AU OPTRONICS CORP., et al. ,]	Illinois, Eastern Division
Defendants-Appellees,]
]	No. 09 C 6610
]
]	Joan B. Gottschall,
]	District Judge.

The court invites the United States Department of Commerce and the United States Department of State to file briefs as amici curiae with respect to the petition for rehearing en banc. The Departments may address any aspect of the case in which they have an interest in expressing their views. The court has special interest, however, in the Departments' views on the potential effects on foreign relations resulting from the issues presented by this case.

If the Departments decide to accept the court's invitation, the briefs regarding the pending petition for rehearing en banc will be due on May 23, 2014. When the Departments decide whether or not to accept the court's invitation to file briefs as amici curiae, the court would appreciate notification of their decision, by letter addressed to the Clerk of the Court, as soon as possible.

In accordance with this invitation, IT IS ORDERED that the deadline for the respondents' answer to the petition for rehearing en banc is extended to May 23, 2014.